BRANDON R. DIAMOND

Randy,

I'm really glad we got to be good friends this year. What would I have done without you there to help me combat our friendly juniors with the water hose! Seriously, I wish you all the best of luck in the future and I hope the 10 years from now, we will be able to look back on this year with great memories.

God Bless!

Love, Friends,
Laura

Randy,

To a realy sweet & cute guy. We have just become good friends this year, I'm glad! I guess we were both to SHY (HAHA) to talk to one another. Remember the fun we had in Teen Connection, and at lunch. Maybe we'll have a first place T-ball team (HAHA) Not if our nephew keep playing like they have been. Good Luck in the future. You have alot going for you so I know you will get what ever you want out of life. See you around (at T-Ball games) and this summer. God Bless ya & Be Careful

Love ya,
Helen Creel

Randy,

I never thought we'd ever get to the point where we'd sign senior annuals. It has been a great pleasure for me to have known you over the past 6 years. I'm really going to miss you after the 27th. I do want to keep in close touch through the years. You are a very special, good looking guy. With your personality I know you'll have no problem in life. God bless you.

Love in Him,

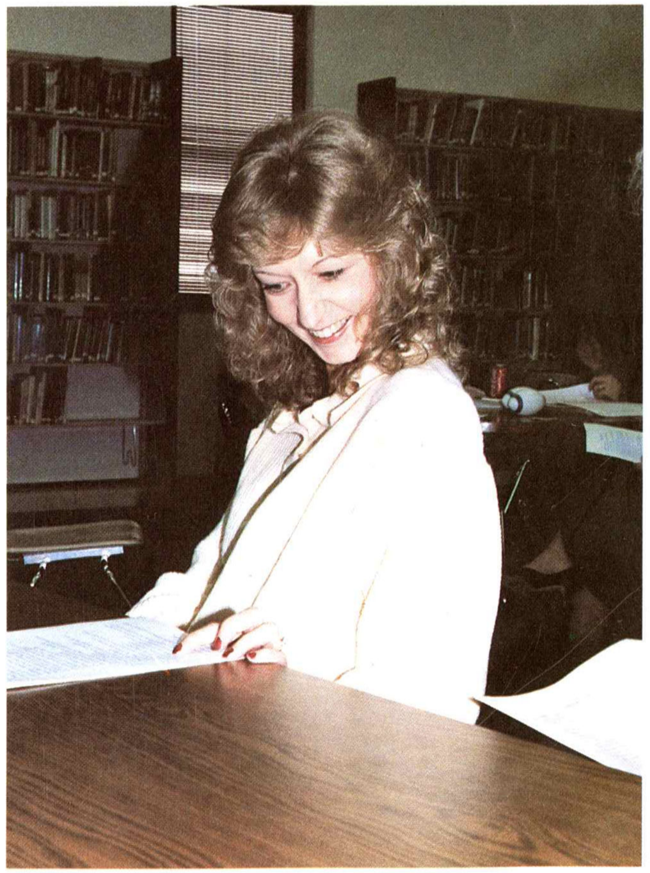
Miss Jean Crawford

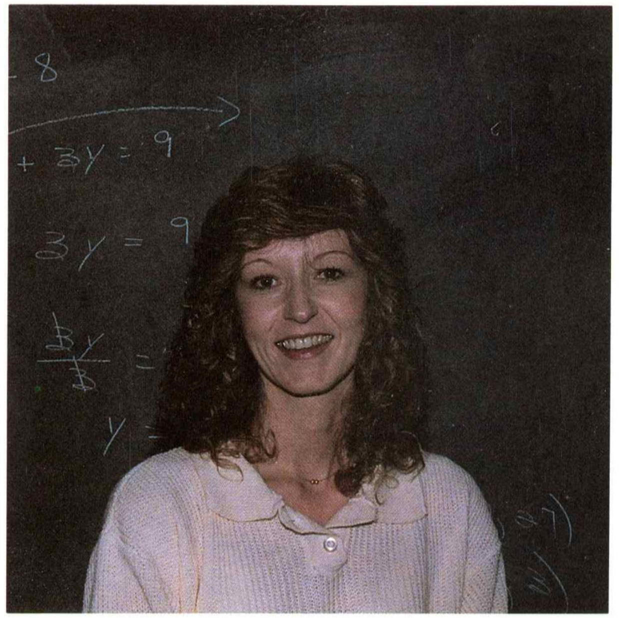
President Theodore Roosevelt once said that the United States should "speak softly and carry a big stick." This prophetic statement could be applied very easily to the kind and gentle nature of this year's honoree. With more than a decade of service to St. Martin students, her soft voice and gentle style of delivery have always carried the big message that everyone can learn if they are willing to try. Unwavering in her belief and firm in her stance against not trying, she has made a significant contribution to our school and students as a math teacher and chairman of the Mathematics Department. We, the Yellowjacket staff, are pleased to repay her for her years of sacrifice for us by dedicating the 1987 Yellowjacket to this warm and sincere lady — Miss Jean Crawford.



Dedication

Randy:
I am so glad that we had the opportunity to become friends over the last few years. I will miss you next year and I will be very upset if you don't keep in touch. I wish you the best! If you need my help in anything, please let me know.
A friend,
Jean Crawford

Love, Kelly



1986-1987: The Beginning

In the sweltering heat of mid-August, registration days signaled that school had officially begun. Schedule changes, elections, pep rallies, meeting new people, the renewing of old friendships, and the organizing of clubs all contributed to the excitement of the first weeks of school. Sophomores were frantically trying to learn their ways around school, while juniors and seniors felt confident that they knew all the routines of the school day. As the week passed by, the increased morale and spirit at SMH made everyone realize that 1986-87 was definitely destined to be a memorable year.

1986 Brings Changes

Change is inevitable and often is accepted reluctantly. However, with 1986 came several changes which were widely and gladly welcomed. For the first time in approximately 16 years, students at SMH are enjoying a 15-minute morning break during which they can relax in the sun, browse with friends in the hall, finish chores in the classroom, or fight off the "pangs" of hunger with a snack from the concession stand. The break provides for the teachers time to "catch their second wind," arrange last minute materials, or just prop their feet up and rest, except for the coaches who monitor the halls and operate the concession stand.

An additional change was the school board's permission for the wearing of walking shorts. Quickly the wearing of shorts spread throughout the school, and the students seemed to try to outdo each other in wearing the wildest and most colorful shorts. These two changes have helped to instill in SMH students a more positive attitude toward school.

Pep Rallies Experience Facelift

With half the student body sitting docile, the cheerleaders led the first pep rally of the season to a dismal conclusion. Disheartened, the cheerleaders, under the direction of Mrs. Butler, immediately began to motivate the students and faculty to get involved in the pep rallies, and their efforts proved successful. The seniors led the way by making special signs and performing skits. Next, a group of junior boys, better known as the Rude Crue, made a surprise appearance which incited the sophomores to unite to show their spirit. Each week from that time on, each pep rally had special student performances and widespread student involvement. Adding to the enthusiasm were the zany cheers and pyramid of the teachers. By the end of the football season, pep rallies had become memorable experiences for 1986.

Homecoming Reveals Real Jacket Spirit

Starting with the first "Nerd" who entered the school on Monday to the last play of the game on Friday, Homecoming Week was filled with excitement, pride, and tradition. Homecoming Week activities, such as Nerd Day, Twin Day, and spirit link competition, aroused the spirit of the students and increased their anticipation for the event to end it all, The Crowning of the Homecoming Queen.

Culminating the week's activities were the pep rally and the homecoming parade. Spirits, undampened by nine weeks exams, were evident as students crowded into the gym, chanting their class yells to win the coveted spirit stick. After cheers by a joint squad of football and basketball cheerleaders, the homecoming court was presented. Filled with enthusiasm, students left the pep rally to make final preparations for the parade.

Jackets on Parade

Working frantically to complete class and club floats on time for judging, students were filled with panic and fear that all would be ruined by the ominous dark clouds that hovered over on parade day. However, undaunted by the sprinkling rain, the units of the parade began their procession on time, and the parade was a total success. First place honors went to the seniors, while the juniors took second place. The many hours of hard work had been worth the effort.

Seniors Win 'Big'!

Adding to their collection of trophies, the seniors made a clean sweep of honors during Spirit Week. They sold over 7,000 spirit links, won each day for class participation, and won first place float in the homecoming parade, thus giving them the overall trophy for the "most spirited" class.

Vote for . . .

The friendly competition between classmates for leadership positions as class officers or as officers of the largest school organizations contributed to the morale and enthusiasm of SMH students this year. Around every corner and on every available window or door, posters and signs were hung for campaign purposes. There were no popularity contests — just deserving titles for those students who worked for them.

Senior Farewell

The water is calm and smooth. As time passes by, the water is molded and shaped into a little wave by forces, such as the wind and rain. In turn, the small wave develops into one with a magnificent crest. As the water progresses to the shore, the wave finally meets the white, warm sand. Its destination has been reached. But suddenly, the wave disappears — it is enmeshed by the strong current of the sea. The enormous wave is now once more a small wave. Compared to the vast body of water, the little one is once again nothing. But all is not lost; the two — wave and shore — shall meet again.

Just like the wave, we are babies who are nurtured and cared for throughout our childhood. We may not realize, but we are influenced by outside forces, such as environment, parents, teachers, and, most of all, friends. We have come to a plateau which many have reached before. As the wave became larger, it collected more water than the time before. Just like the wave, we have collected information to last a lifetime. If we take what we have learned and use it to help others, we are benefiting ourselves as well. Once we part, the knowledge we have attained will be carried in our minds forever. When we return, our wisdom will be greater than the wisdom we had many years ago. Our graduation is not a farewell; it is a beginning. The two — classmate and friend — shall meet again.

A Child Loaned

"I'll lend you for a little time
a child of mine," He said,
"For you to love the while she lives
and mourn for when she's dead.
It may be six or seven years
or twenty-two or three,
but will you, till I call her back,
take care of her for Me?
She'll bring her charms to gladden you,
and should her stay be brief,
you'll have her lovely memories
as solace for your grief.
I cannot promise she will stay,
since all from earth return,
but there are lessons taught down there
I want this child to learn.
I've looked this wide world over
in my search for teachers true,
and from the throngs that crowd
life's lanes,
I have selected you.
Now will you give her all your love,
not think the labor vain,
nor hate me when I come to call
and take her back again?
I fancied that I heard them say,
'Dear Lord, Thy will be done,
For all the joy thy child shall bring,
the risk of grief we'll run.
We'll shelter her with tenderness.
We'll love her while we may
and for the happiness we've known forever grateful stay.
But should the angels call for her
much sooner than we planned,
We'll brave the bitter grief that comes and try to understand.' "

1986 Homecoming Court

As homecoming festivities progressed through the week, the night of October 24 "crowned" the whole event. Because of the bad weather, the maids took pictures inside the school, which made a beautiful setting and a great backup for the photographs.

After being paraded around the field in their cars, the girls were escorted across the field by their fathers, and each girl presented her mother with a flower and a kiss. To add a little excitement to this year's court presentation, a cute and fun-loving dog "danced" to the music performed by the band during the ceremony. While "Rover" was rolling away in the grass, the maids just side-stepped him while Mrs. Dowdle nicely tried to get him off the field.

Missy Seymour, last year's reigning queen, crowned this year's queen Jerri Wilson just seconds before the downpour of rain. After being crowned, Jerri was presented with a bouquet of roses by Bay High's football captain and cheerleader co-captain.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mrs. Dowdle and Mrs. Platt presented each maid with a gift of remembrance. This gift was a heart charm with "Maid '86" engraved on it. Each girl also received a corsage.

Mr. Dowdle, "the voice of the Yellowjackets," announced the pregame ceremonies with a touch of class that will remain a tradition throughout the years. Even though the weather was terrible, no one's spirits were dampened, and the evening was a success.

The Gayfers Teen Board consists of sixty high school girls from the Gulf Coast area. In order to be eligible to try out for Gayfer Girl, one must have an overall "B" average and be a high school junior or senior.

Gayfer Girls are involved in many community service projects. Some of this year's activities included visiting the VA hospital to deliver Valentines, raising money for the Heart Association through the Jail Bail, and assisting senior citizens in their Christmas shopping. One of the highlights of the year for GG's is participation in Little Santa Shopping Morning. On this day GG's dressed up as elves assist children in their Christmas shopping. Many Gayfer Girl fashion shows benefit various charities. The "Back to School" Seventeen Show benefited the Saenger Theater and the GG Scholarship Fund. This year's Holiday Show was held in conjunction with the "Toys for Tots" campaign.

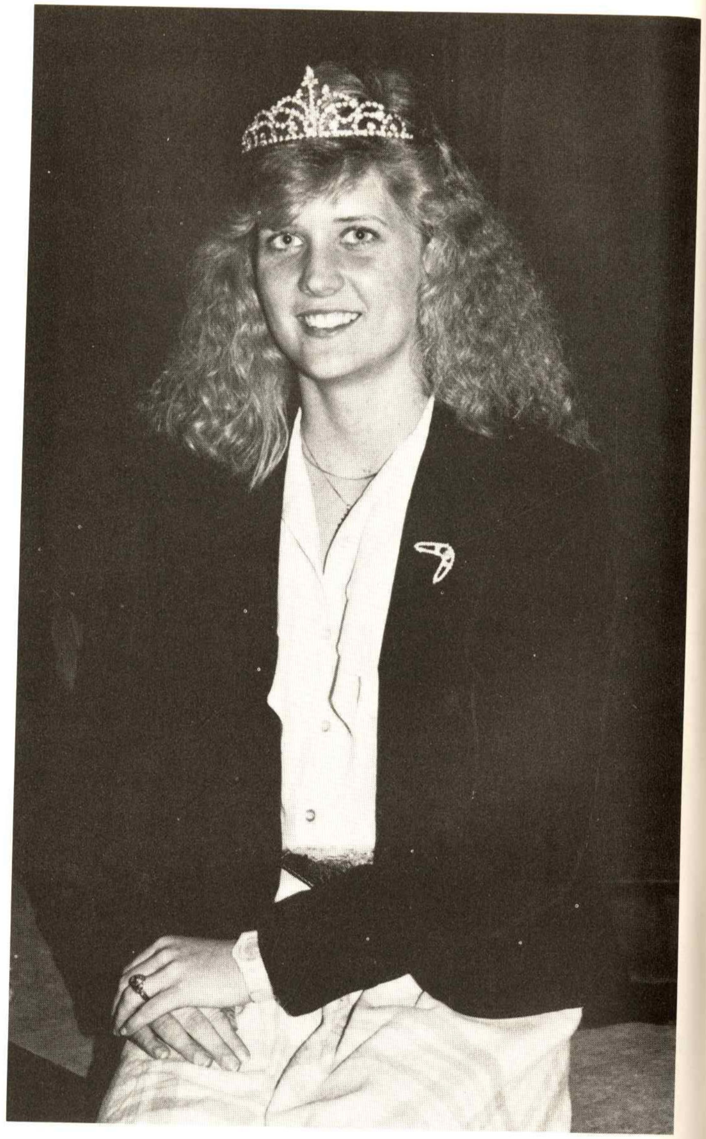
The Gayfer Girls attended Convention in Point Clear, Alabama. GG's competed for awards in fashion, talent, name tags, and scrapbooks. The Edgewater board placed first in name tags and second in scrapbook. St. Martin's Gayfer Girls received awards at Convention. Anita Williams placed first in the individual Miss Fashionable Competition, Wendy Rackley placed first in the group Fashionable Competition, and Juanita Frazer placed first in the Talent Competition.

Saturday Shows are a major part of the experience of being a Gayfer Girl. Saturday Shows are a time for GG's to "salute" their schools. It is also a learning experience since the GG's produce and direct their school's show. Last year St. Martin's GG's, along with Long Beach, were awarded the Best Saturday Show award. The theme of the show was "Fairytale Fashions." This year's show promises to be equally as exciting.

This year four of St. Martin's former Gayfer Girls were awarded the honor of being named Big Sisters for the 1986-1987 year. Juanita Frazer, Cheri Howat, Shellie Wallis, and Anita Williams were named Big Sisters.

Basketball Homecoming Queen

Tisha Langfitt



Basketball homecoming festivities were celebrated on February 13, 1987, during the game with Pass Christian. The homecoming program was presented during the period between the B-team and varsity games. As Mr. James Hodges introduced the maids, they were escorted to the center court by their fathers. Coaches Jack Cox, Mike Perkins, and Mike VanWinkle crowned Tisha queen and presented her with a bouquet of roses. The program was organized and sponsored by the basketball cheerleaders and Ms. June Long.

Volleyball rebuilds.

Coach Debbie Hughes, with only a ten-member volleyball team, experienced a rebuilding year with only two returning players from last year — Lynn McDown and Diana Gavin. A newcomer to SMH and a welcomed addition to the volleyball team was Tisha Langfitt. The leading servers for the team were Linda Warrick (96 points), followed by Tisha Langfitt (87 points) and Diana Gavin (82 points). The leading spiker was Linda Warrick with 33.

With this year's team consisting of all seniors except for three juniors, Coach Hughes is faced with the same dilemma as this year and is beginning early to recruit for next year.

Jackets finished a series of hard-hitting, close-scoring games with a record of three wins and seven losses. Continued hard work paid off when they defeated Vancleave and Pass Christian back to back. New quarterback, Terry Hilton, and the Jacket offense played well throughout the whole season. Consisting mainly of sophomores, the young defense performed well this year and poses a potential threat for all SMH opponents next year.

The SMH boys basketball team experienced a triple dose of victory against the D'Iberville Warriors this season. In all three outings against the Warriors, the Jackets proved victorious. To make victory even sweeter, the Jackets took top honors for the third consecutive year in the D'Iberville Tournament. Not only did the Jackets win first place in the tournament, but three of them — Tommy Weldy, Marvin Seymour, and Terry Hilton — were named All Tournament and received trophies for this achievement.

As another school year has passed, the Yellowjacket staff has recorded our fondest memories that have made school year 1986-87 special and unique. Through long hours of hard work and dedication, the staff has accomplished this difficult, yet fulfilling, task.

To receive more training and plan out the yearbook, three staff members — Sandee Smith, Janice Lee, and Shellie Wallis — attended the Taylor Publishing Company Yearbook Workshop at USM this summer. For their outstanding layouts and organization, these 3 members received a "Superior" plaque, an award given to twelve of thirty-six schools.

The band captured five superior trophies of a possible five. The Yellowjacket Band traveled to Florida and captured all superior ratings at the Old South Open in Milton, Florida. The S.M.H. Band was again the only band to do so in its class. Seventeen students were selected as members of the Gulf Coast Band Director's Clinic. This number is more than many coast schools and the most ever selected at St. Martin. Christy Quave and Xavier Cole were selected to the Mississippi All-State Band.

Teen Connection is a project which was developed by the Drug Research and Education Association in Mississippi to unite young people through structured activities during the school year. St. Martin students accepted the challenge and formed a council. With the firm belief that young people can influence their peers quicker and with greater results than adults can, the council began with a project to bring attention to the needless deaths and wasted lives resulting from drug and alcohol abuse. Red ribbons were worn by many St. Martin students and faculty during "Red Ribbon Week" as a symbol of their desire to keep drugs out of St. Martin schools. This successful project was followed by another which the council called their "Drug Free Jamboree." Teams of students competed in both fun and athletic events in a day-long program. The Teen Connection Council has assumed a leadership role and is proving to all young people that having fun does not have to always come in a bottle.

Randy,
Well, it's just about over. We have had so much fun this past year, especially in

Randy,

Well, we've been friends for a long time, & it's been great. Don't forget World's Fair (Jerry not being on the Chair lift behind us. Remember we thought he fell into Popeye's roof?) We had so much fun. Also remember Miss Diaz's Class & you, Roy, Lee & Larry always picking on me. Don't forget going to the Acosta Course in Gulfport & then going to the mall. Last but not least, when you beat my hair to death on Prom night at Janice's' party because my hair caught on fire. You are a real good-looking, sweet, generous, kind & "SHY." Good Luck in the ~~fut~~ future!

Randy,

Can you believe it? FINALLY! Yes, I am signing your annual. But just think, every time that you look at it or think about our senior year, you will remember me and my busy schedule. I believe that being slow is worth it, if you know that it causes a good friend to think about you. Also, having your annual kept you on my mind.

Randy, I can remember graduation like it was yesterday. All of the tears, hugs, and promises of keeping in touch. You know it is amazing how quickly we separate and adjust to our new lives. I just want you to know that you are one of the few friends from high school that I truly missed and care about staying in touch with. I really appreciate the friendship that we had (still have). You have always been sincere with a heart full of an honest love. I never had to worry if I say you whispering as you looked at me or snickered behind my back because I new the kind of person that you are; I could laugh along with you at the jokes that you played on me.

Well, I guess the point that I am trying to make and what it all boils down to is, if I ever needed anything or someone to turn I knew and still know that you would be concerned, listen, and truly be there for me.

You are such a great guy, fun, easy going, and you have a heart of gold. I love you, Randy. I pray for God's blessings on your life, but most of all I pray that He will lead you and direct you unto all understandings and will keep you in the "hollow" of His hands.

Again, I love you.
Take care.

Anita
Williams
